Stombaugh named interim COO

Deborah Stombaugh has been named interim chief operating officer for IUSM effective Sept. 1.

In her new position, Stombaugh will work with the deans and others to develop, fund and implement the financial, operational and strategic goals of IUSM's executive management, particularly as related to the school's research mission. In addition, she will oversee the departmental liaison activity between the deans offices and departments within the school, provide administrative leadership to fiscal managers regarding federal, state, university and school policies and procedures, and work with the campus and central university administrations to ensure that IUSM is in compliance with all requisite policies and regulations.

Groundbreaking for IU-B's new life sciences building

The Trustees of Indiana University, President Michael A. McRobbie and Executive Vice President and Provost Karen Hanson invite faculty, staff and students to attend the Wednesday, Sept. 26, groundbreaking ceremony for the Multidisciplinary Science Building II on the Bloomington campus.

The ceremony will be at 3 p.m. in the courtyard behind the Psychology Building, 1101 E. 10th Street, Bloomington. In the event of rain, the ceremony will move to the Godfrey Graduate and Executive Education Center, Kelley School of Business, rooms 0034-0036. A reception will immediately follow the ceremony.

Faculty members needed to keep IUSM accredited

In November 2008 a survey team from the Liaison Committee for Medical Education will visit IUSM. This accreditation process occurs every seven years and requires a comprehensive institutional self-study. This self-study documents the quality of the medical educational programs and the adequacy of resources to support it at IUSM. It also gives faculty, staff and students an opportunity to reflect on current programs and consider whether educational needs are being met.

To be successful, the self-study process will require input from a broad representation of the faculty. Faculty members are sought to serve on the IUSM Self-Study Task Force. The term of service will be approximately one year. Faculty members who wish to be considered for this important task should contact Jim Brokaw, PhD, MPH, assistant dean for Medical Student Affairs, at 278-2891, or jbrokaw@iupui.edu.

Mark your calendar for Beering Lecture

Robert A Weinberg, Ph.D., the recipient of the 2007 Steven C. Beering Award for Outstanding Achievement in Biomedical Science, will present the Beering Lecture at 8:30 a.m., Wednesday, Oct. 24, in the University Place Conference Center auditorium.

Dr. Weinberg, who is being recognized for his research on the genetic basis of human cancer, is a founding member of the Whitehead Institute for Biomedical Research and the Daniel K. Ludwig Professor for Cancer Research at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Medical Humanities hosts two programs

Upcoming presentations hosted by the Medical Humanities Program include a seminar on organ donation and a paper that won the 2007 Medical Humanities Essay Award.

Kathryn Wilmot will present "The Indiana Hospital for the Insane: Varying Perspectives of Moral Treatment Landscape" at 4 p.m. Monday, Sept. 17. Her paper won the 2007 essay competition sponsored by the Medical Humanities - Health Studies Program, the Center for Law and Health and the John Shaw Billings Society. The paper is available to download from medhumanities.iupui.edu/index.html.

Refreshments will be served at 3:30. This presentation at the Indiana Medical History Museum is free and open to the public. Directions to the museum can be found at www.imhm.org/visit/directions.html

For additional information, contact Nancy Eckerman at 274-7076 or neckerma@iupui.edu.

“Touching Life: Telling Organ Donation Stories,” a seminar discussing how communications on the topic can benefit the general public, will be Tuesday, Sept. 25 from noon-1 p.m. at the University Library auditorium. An award-winning organ donation movie, “Your Name is Miracle,” a class project, will be shown.

This event is free of charge and open to the public, but space is limited. To attend, RSVP to Vanessa d'Amico in the Medical Humanities Program at 278-1669 or email a message to ykoepke@iupui.edu.

Town hall meetings planned for Women in Medicine month

To commemorate the month of September as Women in Medicine month, the IUSM Women’s Advisory Council will host three open town hall meetings:

- Noon to 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 18, room 101 of the IU Cancer Research Institute (Lunch will not be served, but brown bag lunches are encouraged)
- 4 to 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 20, Riley Outpatient Center auditorium
- 7:30 to 9 a.m., Tuesday, Sept. 25, Riley Outpatient Center auditorium

Please note that attendees can feel free to come and go as teaching and clinical obligations dictate.

The Women’s Advisory Council, chaired by Karen West, MD, was formed in the fall of 2006 to provide guidance for building a culture that will inspire, encourage and enable women physicians and scientists to realize their personal and professional goals. All members of the IUSM community are invited to attend the town hall meetings to present input on the topic: What would it take to make the IUSM environment be one in which all members of our community – men and women; majority and minority; all ranks and tracks – can thrive?

New faculty welcome reception

Join the IUSM Office of Faculty Affairs and Professional Development to meet informally with new and seasoned colleagues from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday, Sept. 24, in the Riley Outpatient Center conference rooms A and B. The reception will provide an opportunity for faculty to become acquainted with the numerous resources available at IUSM and to hear success stories from experienced faculty.

Informal discussions, consultations and print materials will be available on:

- Support for Teaching including Using Technology
- Leadership Development Opportunities
- The Tenure and Promotion Process
- Upcoming Grant Opportunities
- Library Resources
- Support and Resources for Women Faculty and Faculty of Color

RSVP to Kelli Diener at kas1@iupui.edu

Eighth Annual Clarian Health Leadership Ethics Lecture

The Eighth Annual Clarian Health Leadership Ethics Lecture, "The Gift of the Wesleyan Spirit: Biomedical Theology and Ethics," will take place Wednesday, Sept. 26, at 3:30 p.m. in the Methodist Hospital Petticrew Auditorium. Kenneth L. Vaux, professor of theological ethics at Garrett-Evangelical Theological Seminary in Evanston, Ill, will be the speaker.

Dr. Vaux also is a member of the graduate faculty at Northwestern University. And emeritus professor of ethics at the University of Illinois College of Medicine. His scholarly work engages the contemporary dialogue between religion and science and brings keen insights from Judeo-Christian thought into contact with science and medical ethics.

A reception will follow in the Noyes Pavilion Lobby.

Jointly sponsored by the Charles Warren Fairbanks Center for Medical Ethics at Clarian Health Partners and the Methodist Health Foundation, this year's Leadership Ethics Lecture honors the 100 th anniversary of the opening of Methodist Hospital by celebrating the rich Wesleyan tradition of incarnational theology demonstrated in justice and care for the poor and sick.

Continuing education credit will be available for physicians, nurses, chaplains and social workers.

Among Dr. Vaux's many publications are:

"The First Bioethicist and Other Escapades" (2006)

"Theology for Science" (2006)

"Jew, Christian, Muslim: Faithful Unification or Fateful Trifurcation? Word, Way, Worship and War in the Abrahamic Faiths" (2003)

"Dying Well" (1996)

"Death Ethics: Religious and Cultural Values in Prolonging and Ending Life" (1992)

Inaugural retreat to promote relationship-centered care

Members of the IUSM community are invited to participate in “Fostering a Sense of Community at Clarian: Engaging the Arts” which is scheduled for Sunday evening and Monday all day (Oct. 21 and 22) at the Hulman Riverhouse of the White River Garden.

The program will provide an opportunity for physicians, nurses, administrators and educators who work at Clarian Health to gather and acquire the skills of reflective practice through storytelling and other forms of artistic expression. The gatherings will take place during four biannual one and one-half day retreats and monthly “brown-bag” meetings designed to keep retreat participants connected between meetings. We believe a commitment to at least two retreats and the monthly meetings will be of greatest value but welcome all who would like to participate in any of the retreats and meetings.

The facilitators include members of the Relationship-centered Care Initiative of the Indiana University School of Medicine, faculty of the IUPUI Medical Humanities Program and Music Therapy program, writers of the Writer’s Center of Indiana, and local visual artists.

There will be a limit of 45 participants for each of the four workshop sessions. For additional information, see meca.iusm.iu.edu/Resources/EngageArts.html. To register send a brief message with your name, contact information (including e-mail address), description of your role within the Clarian community and any specific creative arts experience or interest by Wednesday, Oct. 10 to:

Attention fourth year students: HOST helps you travel to your interviews

HOST – Helping Our Students Travel – aims to connect fourth year medical students with alumni hosts in interview cities around the country while helping to defray the cost of residency interviews.

Successful matches with HOSTs will benefit students by providing:

- FREE house in residency interview cities
- Local insight from the HOST
- Networking connections with new colleagues
- Mentor relationships with physicians in your interest area and future home city

Students who will be traveling for their interviews are encouraged to register their trips early with the Alumni Relations office by visiting alumni.iupui.edu/medicine and clicking on the HOST link on the left side of the page. Alumni interested in hosting a student visiting their city or region are encouraged to Update their profile on the Alumni Relations Web page: alumni.iupui.edu/medicine.

HOST is a program of the IU School of Medicine Alumni Association. If you have questions, please direct them to Alumni Relations Director Jayme Little at iusmalum@iupui.edu or 274-8828.

This week on Sound Medicine

Tune in at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 16, to Sound Medicine, the weekly radio program co-produced by IUSM and WFYI Public Radio (90.1 FM) in Indianapolis. The program is hosted by Barb Lewis.

Indiana Family and Social Services Administration Secretary Mitch Roob, and Nancy Swigonski, MD, MPH, Children's Health Services Research at IUSM, will explain the political football called SCHIP – the State Children's Health Insurance Program – which provides insurance to children whose parents don't qualify for Medicaid but cannot afford private health insurance. SCHIP's funding ends on Sept. 30. Congress and the Senate want to expand the program to include more children, but President Bush has said he will veto those bills.

Tom Howard, MD, associate professor of surgery at IUSM and founder of the Pancreas Research Group, will discuss pancreatic cancer. Arguably the world's leading operatic tenor Luciano Pavarotti recently succumbed to the disease.

Co-host David Crabb, MD, will discuss the new anti-smoking drug that appears to also curb drinking. The drug blocks inhaled nicotine from reinforcing the pleasure sensors in the brain and a new study suggests alcohol acts on the same locations.

The final segment of a two-part series on Alzheimer's disease continues with Chris Callahan, MD, who will take a glimpse at prevention and the future of dementia treatments.

Archived editions of Sound Medicine as well as other helpful information can be found at <http://www.soundmedicine.iu.edu/>. Sound Medicine is underwritten by the Lilly Clinic, Clarian Health, and IU Medical Group; Jeremy Shere's "Check-Up" is underwritten by IUPUI.

Scope submission guidelines

Scope wants your news items.

The deadline for submission is 8:30 a.m. on Thursdays. Scope is published electronically and sent to faculty, staff, students, and residents.

There are three easy ways to submit story ideas or information to Scope:

- e-mail the information to mhardin@iupui.edu
- mail the information to Mary Hardin, Z-7, Ste. 306, IUPUI
- fax your information to (317) 278-8722

Contributions submitted by e-mail should be forwarded in 12 point, plain text format.

In the interest of accuracy, please do NOT use:

- acronyms
- abbreviations
- campus building codes (use full, proper name of building and include the room number)
- Dr. as a preface before names (designate MD or PhD)

To keep the electronic version of Scope as streamlined as possible, only seminars and lectures of general or multidisciplinary interest will be included.
